Honors Seminars

- HONR 3322.01: Journeys (CRN 84083)
  T 4:00-6:50
  (P. Lewis)
  The Journeys Seminar features weekly presentations by outstanding faculty or administrators on our campus (and some from other universities). The focus of these presentations naturally varies, but the emphasis is on an individual “journey,” personal and/or professional. Toward the end of the semester, each student presents the story of his or her own “journey.”

- HONR 3343.01: Film & Society (Sci-Fi) (CRN 84084)
  TR 6:00-8:50
  (J. Harper)
  This interdisciplinary seminar focuses on the intersections among film, society, and culture, with special emphasis on the specious—often grossly inaccurate—depictions of science in popular films. Class meets once per week so that entire movies can be shown and discussed.

- HONR 3375.01: Difficult Dialogues (Sex)(CRN 84085)
  MW 2:00-3:20
  (M. Martinez)
  This multidisciplinary course seeks to foster healthy attitudes toward sexuality by providing knowledge and having discussions about the formation of sexual attitudes, myths, and practices; the philosophy of love and human sexuality; sexual minorities; and human sexual anatomy, as well as the physiology of sexual function. This course discusses mature subject matter. Relevant documentaries, films, artwork, and literature depicting mature content will be required for certain sections of the course. The class will be a safe space to discuss ideas, ask questions, and examine cultural attitudes and social expectations in order to better understand the self and the wider world.

- HONR 3342.01: The Word (Pirates)(CRN 84086)
  MW 12:00-1:20
  (J. Payton)
  This course examines American attitudes toward crime and criminality from the colonial period to the present. Units on piracy, smuggling, drug trafficking and anarchism will allow students to explore both the ways in which American understanding of crime and criminality have evolved over time, as well as the ways in which these particular crimes have taken on special significance in American cultural, political, and legal discourse.

- HONR 3331.01: Online Seminar (CRN 84087)
  TBA
  (J. Littlejohn)
  This is a continuation of this semester’s online seminar. The material and instructors will be essentially the same (meaning that if you took the online seminar this semester you can’t take this one). The focus is on new and compelling ideas or developments in various disciplines (music, social history, science, etc.) with particular use made of Ted Talks.

- HONR 3365.01: Decision Making (CRN 84088)
  TTR 11:00-12:20
  (A. Lynne)
  This is the longest-running honors seminar, and one of the most popular. The line-up of faculty will change somewhat, but the focus will still be on decision-making processes and the ramifications of decisions at every level—from personal to national.
