Any cash support the student/spouse receives from a parent, relative, friend or any other source must be reported as untaxed income. Cash support includes payments made on behalf of the student/spouse. If the student/spouse is living rent-free with a friend or relative, the free food and housing is considered “in-kind support” and is usually not reported on the application unless the student’s name is on the lease. Do not leave any question blank. Enter zero if not applicable.
