History is full of fascinating characters and events, and it is made every day. The Department of History at Sam Houston State University invites you to join us as we study the past, live the present, and prepare for the future. No matter your particular interests, SHSU has the courses for you: US History, Latin American History, European History, World History, Military History, African American History, and more.

Make your own mark on history by applying today!

Apply for admission through ApplyTexas.org.

Deadline for SHSU scholarship applications is February 1, 2013.
