

MEDICINE-HUMANITIES-SOCIAL SCIENCES ROUND TABLE SYMPOSIUM

When: Friday, March 18

Where: Austin Hall

Schedule of Events

Round Table Discussion:
10:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

Lunch
12:00 p.m. to 1:15 p.m.

Plenary Address
1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Round Table Discussion
2:45 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

The College of Humanities and Social Sciences will host a Medicine-Humanities-Social Sciences Symposium, in which invited SHSU faculty and staff will share the work that they are doing in their fields and discuss how that work contributes especially to regional and community health care and research initiatives.

There will be two round table discussions, lunch for participants and audience, and an address by Elena Marks, President and CEO of the Episcopal Health Foundation and Health Policy Scholar at the Baker Institute for Public Policy, Rice University. Ms. Marks will discuss community-centered health homes.

Contact: Paul Child (4-1412; eng_pwc@shsu.edu)

All events are open to all interested individuals, free of charge.