2006 CRIME VICTIM’S SURVEY

Introduction

Hello, my name is ______________ and I'm calling for the Texas Crime Victims' Institute at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville, Texas. Your phone number was randomly selected among Texas residents and is among thousands of such calls we are making in an effort to learn your views about crime in the State of Texas.

I would like to speak with a member of the household who is at least 18 years old. Would that happen to be you?
1. Yes
2. No--Wait for adult / Repeat Introduction
3. No--Call back later
4. Not willing to do interview

If yes, read the following

By participating in our study you may contribute to improving efforts to prevent some crimes from occurring and improving the help victims of crime receive. We hope to interview 700 Texas residents about their experiences with being victimized within the last 24 months. The kinds of crimes we will ask you about include assault, stalking, and property crimes.

INFORMED CONSENT TO PARTICIPATE IN RESEARCH

We ask you to give us about 20 minutes of your time to complete an interview about your experiences. However, your participation is entirely voluntary and you can refuse to participate if you so choose. If you agree to be interviewed, it will cost you nothing. We will not ask for your name, address, or other information that would identify you. In this way you can be assured that no one will know how you answered our questions. The answers you give to this interview will be entered into a database and only used to report information about groups of people, not individual persons. This interview will take approximately 20 minutes of your time.

Have you answered this call on a cell phone?
   If No, proceed with consent process below
   If Yes, say
      Would you prefer to be interviewed
I want to tell you about possible risks and discomforts you may experience as a result of your participation in this survey. Some people who have been victims of a crime may find it difficult to think about the things that have happened to them. Should this happen during this interview, please let me know. You do not have to answer a question if it makes you uncomfortable. However, even if you decide not to answer a question, you may still complete the rest of the interview, if you wish. At the end of the interview I will give you a list of hotlines and websites in the event that the interview causes you to become distressed and/or if you have questions about the survey. The phone numbers will also be given to you upon request if you decide to stop your participation before completing the interview. If you wish to discuss the information just given to you or any other risks you may experience, you may ask your questions now or call the Crime Victims’ Institute toll-free at 877-842-8463.

We hope you will benefit from participating in this survey, knowing that your help may lead to improvement in the services provided to victims of crime.

This study has been approved by the Protection of Human Subjects Committee at Sam Houston State University. If you have questions about your rights as a research participant, please contact the Protection of Human Subjects office at 936-294-3621.

Because this is a telephone interview, I need your consent to be verbally acknowledged.

END INTERVIEW:

Thank you for participating in this survey. Your participation will help us learn more about crime victims’ experiences. People who participate in surveys who have been victims often have some discomfort or painful feelings because they think about the bad things that happened to them. You may feel like you did something to make the crime happen. You may feel angry, anxious, or sad. Please remember that it is not your fault if someone hurts you. You did not make the bad things happen.

When we started this interview I told you I would provide you with some phone numbers and a web address where you might find information that would help you with the things that happened to you. Would you like me to give those to you now?

Texas Department of Criminal Justice, Victim Services Division Referral Center: 1-800-848-4284 (Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.).
The Crime Victims' Institute, Sam Houston State University: (877) 842-8463 www.crimevictimsinstitute.org

Texas Suicide Hotline: 1-800-SUICIDE (1-800-784-2433) 24 hours/7 days a week.

National Center for Victims of Crime: 1-800-FYI-CALL (1-800-394-2255) Monday – Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.

Many communities also have women’s shelters and rape crisis centers. You might check to see if there is a community mental health center in your area as well. These agencies should be listed in the local phone directory.

"We greatly appreciate your time and cooperation; your responses are invaluable to the study of crime in Texas. Thank you very much!"
