Course Description: These courses are designed as a field based reading language arts methods course. As such, a high degree of professional commitment from candidates for certification is expected. At the conclusion of the course the candidates should understand the relationship between reading/language arts and the literacy experiences of children in grades Pre-K through 8 and the interconnectedness of content area knowledge and pedagogy. They should also understand and use a variety of assessment tools that will guide literacy instruction.

Course Format:
The content of this course is delivered (both online and face-to-face) through lecture, self-study, and collaborative groups. In addition, candidates work with mentor teachers in elementary and middle school classrooms for a minimum of 60 hours to apply the concepts, theories, and strategies discussed in class. The professors’ instructional focus is to assist certification candidates in the process of becoming reflective practitioners.

Standards Matrix: Highlighted activities indicate that candidates in SHSU’s educator preparation program interact with K-8 public school students in a public school classroom in order to complete this activity.

Course Content:

This course is designed to help you become an informed, reflective decision maker who can translate understandings of literacy processes and methodology into appropriate instructional decisions for children. Specifically, this course will develop your:

1. Knowledge of the theories, processes, and principles of children’s language and literacy development from emergent through fluent level readers and writers, listeners and speakers.
2. Knowledge of current approaches--basal reader, language experience, and literature-based, the integrated language arts, thematic, writing workshop, creative expression and performing text--for teaching reading and writing, listening and speaking.
4. Awareness of diversity in student abilities, cultural backgrounds and language, and ability to use these understandings to develop appropriate instructional practices.
5. Knowledge of children’s literature, including those with multicultural emphases, and skill in using trade books to teach the language arts.
6. Ability to use the most current research to reflect on your own learning processes, seek answers to questions, and participate in and lead collaborative tasks.
7. Knowledge of the degree and probable causes of children’s difficulty with classroom reading/writing processes.
8. Skill in using a range of assessment techniques to determine student’s literacy strengths and needs.
9. Ability to communicate student strengths and needs with colleagues and parents.
10. Ability to identify, select, and implement instructional strategies appropriate for meeting students’ assessed needs.
Course Requirements:

1) Professionalism. You are currently in a professional course of study in which you are preparing to be a teacher, accountable to and for our priceless children, their parents, your colleagues, and administrators. This is not a responsibility that can be taken lightly. It is expected that your joyful and enthusiastic participation in activities as well as positive attitudes and dispositions toward learning be exhibited throughout your teacher preparation program. Reaves Elementary School is our host school for this course. You are a guest in this school. That means your attitude and behaviors are those of the perfect guest: You look for the good things, you’re cheerful and enthusiastic, and you show that you’re grateful to be here. In this course, everyone begins the semester with 50 points, the maximum for exemplary professional behavior. Loss of points can be the result of absences, tardies, unfinished or poorly prepared work, poor communication between your colleagues or mentor teachers, negative attitudes, lack of initiative, impatience, rudeness, or other unprofessional behavior. A loss of 5 points for each such occurrence can be expected. More points can be lost depending on the seriousness of the infraction. In addition, loss of most or all professionalism points will result in the submission of a note to the College of Education’s Professional Concerns Committee. Solely the professors and your mentor teachers determine the final total of professionalism points. NOTE: If all professionalism points are lost, the final grades for RDG 370/380/390 cannot be higher than a D.

2) Attendance. This is a “hands-on” course in which many of the instructional techniques are demonstrated in class, applied in elementary classrooms, and debriefed in large and small group discussions. Your participation and contributions are vital to your success. Therefore, regular and punctual attendance is expected. Attendance also demonstrates a level of responsibility and commitment that is expected of a professional. More than two absences will necessitate a drop of one letter grade in the final course grade for each class missed. Tardies and early departures are recorded. Two such occurrences are the equivalent of one absence. It is your responsibility to inform the professor of late arrival before that class session ends so the tardy is not recorded as an absence.

3) Assignments. All assignments must be completed and are due at the beginning of the class period on the date assigned. Submission of work at any other time that day will be considered late. All assignments not submitted on time/due date will reduce Professionalism Points by 5 points each. Poorly completed or incomplete assignments in need of revisions deduct 2 points each.

4) Typing format. Typed assignments are to be 10 -12 point, Times font, and 1 inch margins on all sides — including the top. Single-space all papers.

5) Quizzes. Quizzes covering text and lectures will be given.

6) School Service Project. To show our appreciation to O.A. Reaves Elementary School faculty and administrators, each student in the Reading Block will contribute two hours of time to improve the school in some way or assist with a school-wide project. One such project for Fall semester is the Reaves Family Night.

7) Chapter Readings. You will be assigned to read chapters from your course text and will be expected to discuss and review the material with your colleagues during study group sessions.

8) Lit Kit. A Literature Kit is a themed instructional plan using children’s literature—fiction, non-fiction, poetry, songs, and plays—to develop children’s reading and writing abilities. Detailed directions will be forthcoming.

9) Community Based Learning. In addition to our service to the school, it is also required that you find a need in our community that can be met through the application of the knowledge and skills you gain in this course. One such project is the Chicken Soup Group at Forum, a retirement home in the Woodlands. More details for this five-hour commitment will be given later.

PRACTICUM. A minimum of sixty hours of practicum is required for this blocked course. This component is NOT observation. You will be expected to be an active assistant and learner in these classrooms. Your University professor and mentor teachers jointly oversee all practicum experiences. The required school practicum experiences represent a collaborative effort by your host school mentor teachers and university faculty to meet program, state, and national standards as well as district goals. These experiences listed below constitute over 50% of your course grade:
10) Writer’s Workshop. You will take several children through the writing process (prewriting, drafting, revising, editing) that will result in the publication of their own books. Lesson plans and detailed narratives will be kept. The final session will be an Author’s Celebration. This event will feature the children reading their books to an invited audience of children, parents, and teachers. Evaluation: Writing Process rubric.

11) Sharing Books with Children. The purpose of this experience is to give you a chance to teach literacy through children’s literature. Although you may be reading books to children several times a week, you only need to formally document (by filling out a Book Share form) four of such sessions. Book Share #3 is video taped. These Book Share forms must be turned in on specific dates. See Schedule for due dates. Evaluation: Book share rubrics.

12) Developing and Teaching a Literacy Lesson. You will develop a lesson to teach to your mentor’s class. This lesson will be taught twice, evaluated by a teaching team, and recorded on video. (NOTE: Use VHS, not digital, when recording this lesson and Book Share #3.) Evaluation: Lesson Plan rubric and Mentor Teacher Lesson Evaluation.

13) Developing and Producing a Performing Text. You will develop and produce a Performing Text based on an expository book. The children in your mentor’s classroom will participate in the performance. Evaluation: Performing Text rubric.

14) Emily Cobbs Assignment. You must invite a family member to observe you teach one lesson (not during Teach Week) at Reaves Elementary School. Further explanation will be given in class.

15) Preliminary Assessment Reports. You will gather background information, administer literacy assessments, interpret assessment results, determine strengths and weaknesses, and recommend instructional strategies for two students. Further explanation will be given in class.

16) Case Study Reports. After completing preliminary assessment reports, you will select developmentally appropriate materials to meet students’ learning needs and develop and teach lessons based on the results of the assessments. More information will be forthcoming on the case study format.

17) Vocabulary. Every subject matter has its own vocabulary. Literacy assessment and instruction are no exception. Without background knowledge of this vocabulary, it is difficult for the reader to comprehend the text or speak to colleagues succinctly about the subject matter. The vocabulary will be tested and used in class discussion.

The instructors reserve the right to alter course requirements to better meet the learning needs and maturity levels of the preservice teachers.

Expectations:
Given the heavy emphasis on discussion and engagement, attendance is a requirement. In addition, mastery of the dispositions at the Emerging Competence Level is an expectation for this course. It is your responsibility to make these dispositions visible by showing that you do indeed consistently value and practice them. (Details will be forthcoming.) Failure to demonstrate these dispositions will result in a referral to the Professional Concerns Committee.

Portfolio:
As you take your courses in the Teacher Preparation Program, you are expected to be compiling a professional portfolio. There are certain items from the RDG 370/380/390 courses that are you are REQUIRED to include in your final portfolio during Student Teaching. These items are:
- Lesson Plan
- Literature Kit
- Mentor Teacher Evaluation
- Book Share #1, #2, or #3
- Case Study Report
- Dispositions Evaluation and Signature Page
- Guided Reading Lesson

Disability Statement:
Students with a disability that affects their academic performance are expected to arrange for a conference with the instructor in order that appropriate strategies can be considered to ensure that participation and achievement opportunities are not impaired. The physically impaired may contact the Director of the Counseling Center as chair of the Committee for Continuing Assistance for Disabled Students by telephone (extension 1720).

Religious Holy Days Policy
In order to be excused from a scheduled class for a religious holy day, students must present, within the first 15 days of the semester, a written statement describing the holy day. Work missed, including practicum time with the children, must be completed (with written agreement of the professor, Clinical Instructor, and mentor teacher) within a reasonable time after the absence.

NOTE:
All students enrolled in education courses with a field experience component in the public schools are required to APPLY at the beginning of the semester to the Educator Preparation Program before beginning their first field experience. Currently, applications are located outside TEC Rm 213. Applications are to be submitted to the Associate Dean's office with a check for $75.00 made out to SHCPDEP (Sam Houston Center for Professional Development and Educational Partnerships), and a criminal history background check release, unofficial transcript, and unofficial degree plan attached. Failure to do so will result in students not receiving credit for the course and not being allowed to complete their field experience. Compliance with this policy assures our partnership schools that criminal history background checks are initiated for all students participating in field experience in the public schools.
