4. TAKS Release Tests for 2006 for 4th grade Reading/Language Arts & Writing (On-line) at www.tea.state.tx.us

Course Description: This course is designed as a field-based reading language arts methods course. As such, a high degree of professional commitment from candidates for certification is expected. At the conclusion of the course the candidates should understand the relationship between reading/language arts and the literacy experiences of children in grades EC-8. They should also understand the interconnectedness of content area knowledge and pedagogy.

Course Format: Course content is delivered through lecture, self-study, workshop, collaborative groups, and school experiences. During class sessions literacy concepts, theories, and strategies appropriate for elementary/intermediate/middle school learners are discussed and practiced. During the school service portion of the course candidates work with mentor teachers in elementary/intermediate/middle schools to apply with children the concepts, theories, and strategies discussed in class. The professor’s instructional focus is to assist certification candidates in the process of becoming reflective practitioners. To facilitate this, a discovery learning approach is emphasized.

Standards Matrix: Highlighted activities indicate that candidates in SHSU's educator preparation program interact with K-8 public school students in a public school classroom in order to complete this activity.

Course Content: This course is designed to help you become an informed, reflective decision maker who can translate understandings of literacy processes and methodology into appropriate instructional decisions for children. Specifically, this course will develop your:

1. Knowledge of the theories, processes, and principles of children’s language and literacy development from emergent through fluent level readers and writers, listeners and speakers.
2. Knowledge of current approaches—basal reader, language experience, and literature-based, the integrated language arts, thematic, writing workshop, creative expression and performing text—for teaching reading and writing, listening and speaking.
4. Awareness of diversity in student abilities, cultural backgrounds and language, and ability to use these understandings to develop appropriate instructional practices.
5. Knowledge of children’s literature, including those with multicultural emphases, and skill in using trade books to teach the language arts.
6. Ability to use the most current research to reflect on your own learning processes, seek answers to questions, and participate in and lead collaborative tasks.
7. Knowledge of the degree and probable causes of children’s difficulty with classroom reading/writing processes.
8. Skill in using a range of assessment techniques to determine student’s literacy strengths and needs.
9. Ability to communicate student strengths and needs with colleagues and parents.
10. Ability to identify, select, and implement instructional strategies appropriate for meeting students’ assessed needs.

Course Requirements:

1) Professionalism: You are currently in a professional course of study in which you are preparing to be a teacher, accountable to and for our priceless children, their parents, your colleagues, and administrators. This is not a responsibility that can be taken lightly. It is expected that your joyful and enthusiastic participation in activities as well as positive attitudes and dispositions toward learning be exhibited throughout your teacher preparation.
program. Rice Elementary and Mitchell Intermediate are our host schools for this course. You are a guest in one of these school. That means your attitude and behaviors are those of the perfect guest: You look for the good things, you’re cheerful and enthusiastic, and you show that you’re grateful to be here. In this course, everyone begins the semester with 50 points, the maximum for exemplary professional behavior. Loss of points can be the result of absences, tardies, unfinished or poorly prepared work, poor communication between your colleagues or mentor teachers, negative attitudes, lack of initiative, impatience, rudeness, or other unprofessional behavior. A loss of 5 points for each such occurrence from your final grade can be expected. More points can be lost depending on the seriousness of the infraction. In addition, loss of most or all professionalism points will result in the submission of a note to the College of Education’s Professional Concerns Committee. Solely the professors and your mentor teachers determine the final total of professionalism points. NOTE: If all professionalism points are lost, the final grades for RDG 370/380/390 cannot be higher than a D.

2) Class Attendance and Participation: Students are expected to attend every class (attendance will be taken each class period) and to participate in class discussions, experiential activities, and collaborative projects. Students are expected to complete reading assignments, bring any materials, books, or mini-assignments, etc. required for conducting class discussions and activities. All written work is to be submitted on time (for adequate instructor feedback prior to related scheduled activities or assignments). You are expected to be on time for all class meetings. Even if you turn in all assignments and they are complete, you are not guaranteed an A if you fail to attend class or are consistently tardy. This is a “hands-on” course in which many of the instructional techniques are demonstrated in class, applied in classrooms, and debriefed in large and small group discussions. Your participation and contributions are vital to your success. Attendance also demonstrates a level of responsibility and commitment that is expected of a professional. Therefore, regular and punctual attendance is expected. Each student is responsible for class attendance for all sessions. In the event of an absence, the instructor must be notified prior to the absence. Absence without prior notice and approval will result in lowering of course grade. Ten points will be deducted from the final grade for each unexcused absence. Absences will only be excused with a doctor’s note or with approval of instructor. Any class missed in case of an absence must be made up. It is the responsibility of the student to make arrangements with the instructor to make up work. If assignments are not made up, ten points will be deducted from student’s final grade. Tardies and early departures are recorded. Two such occurrences are the equivalent of one unexcused absence unless instructor approves documentation of the student. It is your responsibility to inform the professor of late arrival before that class session ends so the tardy is not recorded as an absence. Two absences without notice will result in student being dropped from class.

3) Assignments: All assignments are due at the beginning of the class period on the date assigned. Submission of work at any other time that day will be considered late. All assignments not submitted on time/due date will reduce Professionalism Points by 5 points each. Poorly completed or incomplete assignments in need of revisions deduct 2 points each. All assignments (unless otherwise noted in this syllabus or by the professor) must be typed in 12 point Times font with 1 inch margins on all sides and single-spaced.

4) Reporter’s Formula Interview and Introduction: You will choose a partner to interview during class. This interview will be written up into a newspaper article to be used in introducing your partner to the class and for display in the classroom. (25 points)

5) Literacy Autobiography: You will write two memoirs regarding your standout memories of reading and writing (+ or -) from preschool, elementary, adolescence, etc. These will be used as a springboard for class discussion of best practices in the teaching of literacy and the importance of reflecting on your practice. (25 points)

6) Phonics Test: East student will take a phonics test. Test will be provided by instructor. (25 points)

7) Professional Book Assigned Readings and Reflections: Each student is responsible for complete and thorough reading of each chapter in the assigned textbooks. Discussion groups will be set up on Blackboard. Each student will contribute an elaborated analysis of your learning for each chapter on Blackboard and will respond to two classmates’ reflections. These reflections provide a place for you to think. You must show evidence of critical reading and reflections. These reflections will be used as starting point for weekly in-class discussions (200 points, 100 per book).
8) Reflexive Writing Piece: Throughout the semester, I will guide you through writing activities to generate a reflexive piece of writing. This will in turn guide your work with your students in the classroom. You will select one of your own pieces to take through the writing process. A final piece of your own writing with drafts will be completed and turned in for a grade. It will be published in book format as a model for your students (100 points).

9) Professional Development Activities: Because professional growth opportunities are a part of your future, you will need to take part in eight (8) hours of educational growth opportunities. Each candidate will complete the following professional development activities (100 points):

- Research the International Reading Association (reading.org) and National Council of Teachers of English (ncte.org) websites and complete the following (40 points):
  - Read at least one position statement from each organization and for each type a summary/response paper reflecting on your learning from each position statement and your search on the website. (10 pts.)
  - Read and reflect on one article from each of the websites as follows. Articles can be found in the Wilson search engine through the university library. Some articles can be found online (20 points):
    - International Reading Association – The Reading Teacher (elementary) or Journal of Adolescent and Adult Literacy (middle school) (10 points)
    - National Council of Teachers of English – Language Arts (elementary) or Voices from the Middle (middle school) (10 points)
  - Submit a copy of the online membership form for each organization. (This is to show me that you know how to join.) (10 pts.)

- Unless circumstances prevent you from going (must be approved by the instructor), each of you will attend the Sam Houston Area Reading Council (SHARC)/Sam TAIR Conference to be held at McCullough Junior High School on October 27, 2007. If you have conflicts that prevent you from going to this conference, please see the instructor for an alternative assignment. You will turn in a typed reflection of each session that you attended (keynote and three breakout sessions) with your conference certificate to receive full credit (80 points).

10) Book Projects: You will choose a way to present your favorite book from your reading this semester with the class. Ideas will be provided by the instructor. (25 points)

PRACTICUM. A minimum of sixty hours of practicum is required for this blocked course. This component is NOT observation. You will be expected to be an active assistant and learner in these classrooms. Your University professor and mentor teachers jointly oversee all practicum experiences. The required school practicum experiences represent a collaborative effort by your host school mentor teachers and university faculty to meet program, state, and national standards as well as district goals. These experiences listed below constitute 50 percent of your course grade:

11) Book Shares/Read Alouds: The purpose of this experience is to give you a chance to teach literacy through children’s literature. Although you may be reading books to children several times a week, you only need to formally document by turning in a lesson plan/reflection for two of the sessions. The first Book Share will be with your peers in the university classroom. Book Shares #2 and #3 will be with students in your field-based classroom. Lesson plans must be turned in by due dates. See schedule for due dates. You and your partner will observe and reflect on each other’s sessions. Your mentor teacher will reflect on Book Shares #2 and #3 (50 points each for 100 points). You will turn in your lesson plan with peer, mentor and self assessments attached.

12) Writer’s Workshop: You will take one child, a small group of children, or an entire class through a modified writing process (to be discussed in class) that will result in the publication of their own books. Lesson plans with reflections will be kept. The final session will be an Author’s Celebration. This event will feature the children reading their books to an invited audience of children, parents, and/or teachers. (100 points)
13) Observation/Learning Log: After each class session each day that you are in the classroom, take at least ten minutes before you leave the school to jot down, in a learning log, reflections that will contribute to your growing philosophy about literacy. These will be typed and turned in and used as a springboard for our discussions at our last class meeting. (50 points)

14) Case Study: Knowing one child well is to know all children better. Each student will complete one case study with a struggling reader in grades 1-6. This struggling reader will not only be struggling with comprehension but will be struggling with ways to problem-solve when reading. Please submit preliminary & final case study reports in a binder with dividers.

   a) The preliminary case study must include:

   - Background information on the student
   - Results of assessments
   - Strengths and weaknesses
   - Recommended instructional strategies
   - All documentation (including all assessment information & writing sample)

   b) Weekly Lesson Plans/Reflections with Case Study Child:

   - Lesson plan for each instructional session (turned in prior to the lesson for approval):
     - name of child
     - age of child
     - date of session
     - plan for session (must be from strategies learned in class)
       - read aloud – Name of book & author
       - instructional reading time – instructional strategies
       - writing – prewriting/revision/etc.
     - Reflection on the session (What went well? What would you do differently? What didn’t work?)
     - Plan for future session

   c) Final Case Study Report

   - In-depth analysis of your work with your child
   - Results of instructional sessions (what worked, etc.)
   - Suggestions for parents’, teachers’ or tutors’ future work with the child
   - Summary statement of your learning—about your child and about the teaching of reading in general.
   - Attach Preliminary Case Study
   - Attach lesson plans/reflections

15) Mentor Teacher Final Evaluation: Each of you will receive two mentor teacher evaluations of your work for the semester—one at midpoint and one final. The final evaluation will count for 50 points.
RDG 370/380/390

16) Final Exam: Candidates will complete a final self-assessment that will include a fully elaborated analysis of your learning from each of the above assignments. This will be completed and turned in the last week of class. You can make this a cumulative learning experience by reflecting after each assignment is completed. I don’t want you using notes for this assignment. Real learning should come from the head and the heart and should make connections to what one already knows and what one wishes to learn. Real learning never stops. Therefore, in the final case study (and you can do this after each assignment or at the end), you must set goals for how you plan to use this learning when you get your own classroom. This assignment will contribute to your evolving literacy philosophy. (100 points)

Evaluation: Instructor expectations for graded assignments will be clarified through assignment explanation handouts and grading rubrics. All work submitted for review must be edited. All projects/assignments are to be typed unless noted otherwise by the instructor. Late papers/assignments will be penalized one grade.

University Policies: You may find online a more detailed description of the following policies. These guidelines will also provide you with a link to the specific university policy or procedure: http://www.shsu.edu/syllabus/

Academic Dishonesty: Students are expected to maintain honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. See Student Syllabus Guidelines. Classroom Rules of Conduct: Students are expected to assist in maintaining a classroom environment that is conducive to learning. Students are to treat faculty and students with respect. Students are to turn off all cell phones while in the classroom. Under no circumstances are cell phones or any electronic devices to be used or seen during times of examination. Students may tape record lectures provided they do not disturb other students in the process. Student Absences on Religious Holy Days: Students are allowed to miss class and other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. Students remain responsible for all work. See Student Syllabus Guidelines.

Students with Disabilities Policy: It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that individuals otherwise qualified shall not be excluded, solely by reason of their disability, from participation in any academic program of the university. Further, they shall not be denied the benefits of these programs nor shall they be subjected to discrimination. Students with disabilities that might affect their academic performance should visit with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities located in the Counseling Center. See Student Syllabus Guidelines.

Visitors in the Classroom: Only registered students may attend class. Exceptions can be made on a case-by-case basis by the professor. In all cases, visitors must not present a disruption to the class by their attendance. Students wishing to audit a class must apply to do so through the Registrar’s Office.

Expectations: Given the heavy emphasis on discussion and engagement, attendance is a requirement. In addition, mastery of the dispositions at the Emerging Competence Level is an expectation for this course. It is your responsibility to make these dispositions visible by showing that you do indeed consistently value and practice them. (Details will be forthcoming.) Failure to demonstrate these dispositions will result in a referral to the Professional Concerns Committee.

NOTE: All students enrolled in education courses with a field experience component in the public schools are required to APPLY at the beginning of the semester to the Educator Preparation Program before beginning their first field experience. Currently, applications are located outside TEC Room 213. Applications are to be submitted to the Associate Dean's office with a check for $75.00 made out to SHCPDEP (Sam Houston Center for Professional Development and Educational Partnerships) with a criminal history background check release, an unofficial transcript, and an unofficial degree plan attached. Failure to do so will result in students not receiving credit for the course and not being allowed to complete their field experience. Compliance with this policy assures our partnership schools that criminal history background checks are initiated for all students participating in field experience in the public schools.
