Book Reviews: 40%
You have four books which you are assigned to read for this course. Each student will write four book reviews (NOT a book report or journalization) on the assigned texts. Book reviews must be turned in by the assignment due date for that text via e-mail to Dr. Steele at his_tls@shsu.edu in either attachments of Word or Word Perfect files. Reviews should be between 1000 and 1200 words. Each book review is worth 13.3% of the final grade.

Book reviews should include an identification of the author's thesis, providing important examples of where the author explains his or her thesis. You should discuss how well the author proves his or his thesis. Finally, the reviewer should identify those who would be interested in the monograph, ie specialist in the field or generalist. These are all things that Dr. Steele looks for in a book review, you may include other information.
See Jules Benjamin’s, A Student’s Guide to History "Writing Book Reviews" for additional information.

Class Discussion & Attendance: 30%

Students are expected to attend every class and participate in all class discussions in a productive and insightful manner or they will receive a zero for this part of the course grade. Students who miss a class (and provide Dr. Steele with written documentation proving reason was justified) will be required to write a 25-page paper journalizing the missed assignment or they will be docked this section of the grade. I should let you know that I consider a valid excuse for missing a graduate class to be one of only the most extreme importance such as hospitalization of the student.

Historical analysis of Mao: The Unknown Story: 30%

This assignment will be discussed in class. This is a fifteen page research paper. Students will choose one section of Mao: The Unknown Story which is very controversial and conduct their own historical research using primary and secondary sources.

GRADING:

Historical Analysis of Mao: The Unknown Story: 30%

Class Discussion & Attendance: 30%

Book Reviews: 40%

Total: 100%

All assignments will be awarded a letter grade based on the quality of the student's work. Factors that are included in the grade are: punctuality, grammar, spelling, accuracy and interpretation. This letter grade translates into a number grade which will appear online at the gradebook on blackboard.

Requirements for all written assignments submitted directly to Dr. Steele in class.

Written assignments should be typed, double-spaced, Arial font, one inch margins, and in 12 pitch with page numbers. Each paragraph should begin with an indentation (tab) of five spaces. Written assignments must be submitted in Microsoft Word. Proper attribution for sources is required. Assignments will be marked down by up to twenty percent for egregious typos and grammatical errors. If the same typos and grammatical errors continue to appear in various lessons, the lessons will be returned by Dr. Steele for corrections before a grade will be issued.

Students MUST activate their university e-mail account to use in conjunction with Blackboard. If you do not wish to use use SamMail, you can have it forwarded to an email address you do use. To do this, follow the steps in the E-Mail Forwarding menu on SamInfo.

Hints on Grammar:

A sentence is supposed to convey a complete thought in a rational and organized way. A number of sentences grouped together should contribute to a basic idea or theme that is the foundation of a paragraph.

Writing Center
Students are strongly recommended to take their written assignments to the Writing Center in Wilson 114 to be previewed before submission. Online students may submit their assignments for review online. You will need to complete the assignment in advance of the due date in order to give the Writing Center time to review your assignment.

Course Policies

Academic Dishonesty

Based on the Academic Policy Statement 810213 and the Faculty Handbook:

All students are expected to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is above reproach. Students are expected to maintain complete honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. Any student found guilty of dishonesty in any phase of academic work will be subject to disciplinary action. The University and its official representatives may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work which is to be submitted, plagiarism, collusion and the abuse of resource materials.

The exams in the course are Scantron. Students who have a text book, notes, cell phone, or computer on their desk (or have notes and/or a text book open near their desk) during an exam may be assumed to be cheating and will receive an F. Students may not engage in conversation during a test or look at another student’s Scantron. Any student caught engaged in such activity may be assumed to be cheating and will receive an F.

Cheating will not be tolerated in this course. Students who are caught cheating on a test, quiz, or any other assignment will receive an F for that assignment and will not be allowed to make up the assignment. If a student is caught cheating a second time, the student will receive an automatic F for the course. Students caught cheating on any assignment will be reported to the Dean of Students. Please see the following web address from the student guidelines at http://www.shsu.edu/students/guide/dean/codeofconduct.html

Classroom Rules of Conduct

Students will refrain from behavior in the classroom that intentionally or unintentionally disrupts the learning process and, thus, impedes the mission of the university. Cellular telephones and pagers must be turned off before class begins. Students are prohibited from eating in class, using tobacco products, making offensive remarks, reading newspapers, sleeping, talking at inappropriate times, text messaging, wearing inappropriate clothing, or engaging in any other form of distraction. Inappropriate behavior in the classroom shall result in a directive to leave class and will not receive credit for attendance that day. Students who are especially disruptive also will be reported to the Dean of Students for disciplinary action in accordance with university policy.

Section 5.2.22 defines classroom disturbances and can be found in the Code of Student Conduct and Discipline at the following link: https://www.shsu.edu/students/guide/dean/codeofconduct.html.

Visitors in the Classroom

Unannounced visitors to class must present a current, official SHSU identification card to be permitted into the classroom. They must not represent a disruption to the class by their attendance. If the visitor is not a registered student, it is at the instructor's discretion whether or not the visitor will be allowed to remain in the classroom.

This policy is not intended to discourage the occasional visiting of classes by responsible persons. Obviously, however, the visiting of a particular class should be occasional and not regular, and it should in no way constitute interference with registered members of the class or the educational process.

Americans with Disabilities Act

It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that individuals otherwise qualified shall not be excluded, solely by reason of their disability, from participation in any academic program of the university. Further, they shall not be denied the benefits of these programs nor shall they be subjected to discrimination. Students with disabilities that might affect their academic performance are expected to visit with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities located in the Counseling Center. They should then make arrangements with their individual instructors so that appropriate strategies can be considered and helpful procedures can be developed to ensure that participation and achievement opportunities are not impaired.

SHSU adheres to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. If a student has a disability that may affect adversely his/her work in this class, then the student is encouraged to register with the SHSU Counseling Center and to talk with the instructor about how best to deal with the situation. All disclosures of disabilities will be kept strictly confidential. NOTE: no accommodation can be made until the student registers with the Counseling Center.

Religious Holidays

Section 51.911(b) of the Texas Education Code requires that an institution of higher education excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. A student whose absence is excused under this subsection may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time after the absence.

"Religious holy day" means a holy day observed by a religion whose places of worship are exempt from property taxation under Section 11.20, Tax Code.

An institution of higher education shall excuse a student from attending classes or other required activities, including examinations, for the observance of a religious holy day, including travel for that purpose. A student whose absence is excused under this subsection may not be penalized for that absence and shall be allowed to take an examination or complete an assignment from which the student is excused within a reasonable time after the absence. A student who plans to miss a class or required activity to observe a religious holy day should inform the professor in writing prior to planned absence.

Instructor Evaluations

Students may be asked to complete a course/instructor evaluation form toward the end of the semester.
