PREREQUISITES:
CNE 737 (Advanced Counseling Practicum and Techniques) and permission of doctoral advisor.

CNE 739 CATALOG DESCRIPTION: Professional service in a field setting appropriate for counseling, consultation, and personnel work, under supervision, spanning two semesters.

COURSE OBJECTIVES:
The clinical internship (CNE 739 I) provides doctoral students with supervised counseling experiences in settings such as public schools, public school administration, community colleges, colleges and universities, and/or public and private agencies. The purpose of the clinical internship (CNE 739 I) is to provide a supervised clinical experience of at least 300 total time hours that allows doctoral students to:
1. Experience the full range of activities that a regularly employed staff member in a counseling-oriented setting would engage in (i.e., individual, group and family counseling, consultation, staff development, assessment, etc.). Interns will be expected to become acculturated to the placement site which includes acting as a member of a professional team and forming positive relationships with colleagues. Interns will develop an identity as a counselor / counselor educator as their primary orientation for practice.

2. Apply advanced theories and techniques in a professional setting by integrating classroom and practicum learning, applying them into the “real-life” context on the job, and making the transition to the next level of service provider.

3. Demonstrate skills consistent with ethical and professional standards appropriate to the setting and the profession. The guiding foundation for the intern’s practice continues to be the ethical standards for the American Counseling Association (ACA). These standards will be adhered to at all times regardless of whether the intern is a member of ACA.

4. Participate in supervision that is provided by a site supervisor with a doctorate in counselor education or a closely related field, and with a mental health license/certification. Interns will be able to critically evaluate their own strengths and weaknesses in the internship role and along with their internship supervisor, develop a treatment plan for any corrective activities to make the internship productive for the intern and the placement site.

5. Demonstrate and enhance the ability to professionally present information to others through writing and speaking.

6. Complete a minimum of 300 total time hours (including at least 120 hours of direct service). The maximum number of hours that may be applied this semester toward the CACREP required 600 hours of total time for clinical instruction (two semesters) is 400 hours. The rest must be accumulated in CNE 739 II. The maximum number of direct service hours that may be applied from this course toward the CACREP requirement of 240 direct service hours (two semesters) is 198. The remaining direct service hours must be completed in CNE 739 II.

7. The curriculum for this course includes (1) knowledge of the literature of the discipline and (2) ongoing student engagement in research related to professional practice. Each student will continue to read in the professional literature, and come to each class prepared to discuss journal articles and/or book chapters related to applied counseling activities included in his or her internship.

CACREP STANDARDS – CLINICAL INSTRUCTION:

1. Doctoral students are required to participate in a supervised advanced practicum in counseling as part of the doctoral program. If conducted at the student’s current work site, the practicum experience must include new learning that is qualitatively different from the student’s occupational responsibilities. The purpose of this practicum is to develop and/or refine advanced counseling skills which should conceptually link counselor practice to teaching and supervision.

2. Doctoral students are required to complete doctoral-level counseling internships that total a minimum of 600 clock hours (spanning two semesters, including 240 hours of direct service). The 600 hours include supervised experiences in clinical settings, teaching, and supervision. The internship includes most of the activities of a regularly employed professional in the setting. The 600 hours can be allocated at the discretion of the doctoral advisor and student, based on the setting. Students should be given the opportunity to participate in additional supervised practica or internships that are appropriate to their career objectives.

3. During practica and internships, the student must receive weekly individual and/or triadic supervision; this supervision is usually performed by a supervisor with a doctorate in counselor education.
education or a related profession. Group supervision is provided on a regular schedule with other students throughout the internship and is usually performed by a program faculty member.
