

Sam Houston State University
Department of Mathematics and Statistics

The Department of Mathematics and Statistics at Sam Houston State University anticipates filling one or more tenure-track positions in mathematics, at the rank of assistant professor. Candidates should have a PhD in Mathematics, excellent communication skills, and a strong commitment to quality teaching, research, and academic service. Preference will be given to candidates whose research interests complement those of current faculty; however, all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply.

One of the fastest growing universities in Texas, Sam Houston State University is located in historic Huntsville, 60 miles north of Houston in the Piney Woods region of East Texas. The university has an enrollment of approximately 16,400 and 650 faculty. The Department of Mathematics and Statistics has 26 tenured or tenure track faculty positions in mathematics, mathematics education, and statistics. The BA, BS, MA, & MS degrees are offered in Mathematics. The MS degree is offered in Statistics, along with Statistics minors at both the undergraduate & graduate levels. For more information about the mathematics department or positions visit http://www.shsu.edu/~mth_www

The review of candidates will begin November 15, 2009 and will continue until the positions are filled. Salary is commensurate with experience and qualifications. The positions start August 19, 2010. Send a letter of interest with AMS cover sheet, curriculum vitae (including teaching and research statements), and three letters of reference to Mathematics Search Committee, Department of Mathematics and Statistics, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville TX 77341-2206. Letters of reference should address the candidate's teaching ability and research potential. All materials must be in hard copy form. Please indicate any plans to attend the 2010 AMS/MAA Joint Mathematics Meetings. Send questions to mathpositions@shsu.edu. EEO/AAP employer.