Art BA (Studio Art)

View & Request Level Feedback
Goal

Drawing Techniques And Skills

Students will have the ability to draw and create expressive works of art using the materials and techniques specific to drawing.

Objective (L)

Drawing Skills

Students will demonstrate basic skills in drawing by producing works that show an understanding of elements, techniques and materials used in contemporary art practices.

Indicator

Drawing Portfolio

Students in BA Studio Art Program will be required to take ARTS 1316 Drawing 1 and ARTS 1317 Life Drawing 1. Each student will submit a portfolio of works selected from these classes that will • show developed craftsmanship and an expertise with a variety of materials.

• demonstrate an ability to depict spatial illusion and volume.
• demonstrate a descriptive and expressive use of value.
• demonstrate a descriptive and expressive use of line.
• demonstrate an understanding and use of 2 point and 3 point perspective.
• demonstrate an understanding of negative space and the ability to combine various elements into a cohesive composition.
• demonstrate the ability to render the proportions of the human figure.
• demonstrate the ability to express ideas and/or emotions through the work.

Criterion

Evaluation By Faculty

A group of at least two of the Studio Art Faculty will evaluate the portfolios using a rubric with a scale of 0-100 for each aspect of the objective. It is expected that at least 80% of the students will achieve an average score of 70%, especially in the area of incorporating negative space as part of the composition and use of the entire page, a weakness that emerged in 2010-2011.

Finding

More Improvement Needed

Percentage of students scoring above 70%:
Craftsmanship 89%
Space and Volume 89%
Value 100%
Line 89%
Perspective 89%
Composition 78%
Concept 89%

Obviously, our weaker areas, although above 70%, are composition and figure proportions.

Action

Emphasize Synthesis

The weakest area in the drawing portfolios is, again, composition along with the ability to accurately render the proportions of the human figure. This indicates a weakness in the student's ability to synthesize the elements of drawing into a cohesive whole and the ability to draw the figure as a whole rather than an assemblage of parts. The Drawing faculty will emphasize composition and explore ways to improve the students ability to synthesize their skills into cohesive works.
Goal

Knowledge Of The History Of Art

Students will learn the History of Art and the relation of Contemporary Art to the continuum of this history.

---

Objective (L)

Art History

Students in the BA Program in Studio Art will demonstrate knowledge of the History of Art and understand theories and trends in Contemporary Art in relation to the continuum of history.

Indicator

Style Recognition And Comparison

Students will be required to take ARTS 1303 Prehistoric to Gothic Art History and ARTS 3385 Renaissance to Post-Modern Art History. In "Exam 2" in ARTS 3385, students will be asked to identify elements of style that are particular to different periods in art history. They will be shown 3 artworks and asked to describe stylistic elements of each and identify the historical period during which they were made.

Criterion

70% Of Students Will Succeed

It is expected that at least 70% of the students in ARTS 3385 will successfully identify and describe stylistic elements from three different periods of art history, specifically increasing the number of students from 54% to closer to 70% who are able to describe stylistic elements and identify each historical period.

Finding

Successful Identification

100% of the students were able to identify stylistic elements from examples of works from the Renaissance, Baroque and Rococo on the exam.

Action

Continue To Teach The Art History Survey

The two sections of art history survey will remain in the curriculum. Faculty will consider ways to assess the students understanding of theories and trends in Contemporary Art.

Closing the Loops Summary

The Art Department will emphasize Drawing as foundation skills for all of the Art Programs, stressing human proportions and compositions. Art History will also be emphasized, and the department will move toward increasing the course offerings in Art History.

|         | Using Type as Image - 85%
|         | Using Type Expressively - 85%

It is clear that understanding the typographic standards is a weak area for our students.

| Action | Review Curriculum
|--------|--------------------------------------------------|
|        | The Graphic Design Faculty will review the curriculum and course content for ARTS 3322, Typography. Emphasis will be placed on Understanding Typographic Standards and Hierarchical Design as learning objectives and the projects used in the course will be reviewed. An Advanced Typography course will be added to the Curriculum to provide a second semester of Typographic Design to students in the Graphic Design Program.

Goal
Prepare Students For Professional Practice
Prepare students to submit a portfolio of professional quality graphic design work to potential employers, clients, or graduate programs.
Objective (L)

Students Will Produce A Professional Portfolio

Students will produce a professional quality portfolio of Graphic Design work that demonstrates basic principles of design and is sophisticated in its content, and demonstrates expertise with the technology used in the profession.

Indicator

Senior Exhibition

Graphic Design students will be required to take ARTS 4323, Senior Studio in Graphic Design and mount an exhibition of their graphic design work. The exhibition will demonstrate the student’s

- ability to use tools and technology in the creation, reproduction and distribution of visual images associated with techniques of drawing, offset printing, photography, and time based media;
- ability to identify and solve graphic design problems through data gathering, alternate solutions generation, prototype creation, and outcome evaluation;
- ability to recognize cognitive, cultural, and social human factors that shape design decisions;
- ability to organize design projects and work effectively as a member of a team.

Criterion

75% Will Score At Least 80

The graphic design faculty of 3 professors will evaluate work in the exhibitions. Using a rubric that scores each aspect of the exhibition on a scale of 0-100, it is expected that 75% of the students will score at least 80%. Since we have completely revised the Senior Exhibition, we are setting a different criterion of 75% of students rather than last year's 80% until students have had an opportunity to adjust to the new standards. In 2010-2011, we identified weaknesses, selection and use of imagery to appropriately convey a theme or idea and the ability to synthesize all of the visual elements into a cohesive whole, within the graphic design program that should be addressed by the new standards.

Finding

Weaknesses And Strengths

</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Recognizing cultural factors is an area for us to improve.

Action

Continue To Evaluate

The Graphic Design curriculum has undergone revision. Additional courses have been added to the curriculum and learning objectives have been modified and added.

It is expected that as students move through the program from beginning to completion with these revisions in place, that the scores will improve. The Graphic Design faculty will evaluate using these criteria and take action if subsequent scores do not reflect improvement.

Closing the Loops Summary

The Graphic Design program has been evaluated and revised in the past two years. New courses have been added to the curriculum and they are now appearing in the schedule. These curriculum changes should significantly improve learning outcomes and are expected to be seen in next years evaluation.

Goal
Believable Motion Using The Principles Of Animation

Computer animation students will demonstrate the ability to create believable motion that demonstrate an understanding of the Principles of Animation in 2D and 3D animated movies.

Objective (L)

Computer Animation Students Will Understand And Apply The Principles Of Animation

Students in the Computer Animation program will demonstrate their ability to apply the Principles of Animation to create believable animated movies using a variety of techniques including 2D and 3D animations.

Indicator

Students Will Upload Projects To An Online Video Posting Service

Students will be required to upload animated videos from ARTS 2343 (Animation Concepts and Techniques) ARTS 2344 (2D Computer Animation) and ARTS 3343 (Intro to 3D Computer Animation) to a video hosting site such as YouTube or Vimeo. A rubric that includes the ability to use Squash and Stretch, Timing and Motion, Anticipation, Staging, Follow Through and Overlapping Action and Secondary Action will be used with possible scores of 0-100. Two faculty members will evaluate students who have completed ARTS 3343 and include work from 2344 and 2343 in their assessment.

Criterion

Students Will Score 80% Or Higher

Computer Animation students will score at least 80% in each area of the evaluation. We have revamped our program extensively to meet current industry trends. We will be taking a baseline this year with the new standards.

Finding

Scores Below 80%

50% of the students scored below 80% on the overall evaluation of the ability to apply the principles of animation in their work. The scores on the individual principles broke down as follows:
- Squash and Stretch - 50% below 80
- Timing and Motion - 17% below 80
- Anticipation - 50% below 80
- Staging- 28% below 80
- Follow Through/Overlapping Action - 45% below 80
- Secondary Action 39% below 80

Action

Evaluate Curriculum And Continue To Emphasize The Principles Of Animation

Faculty will evaluate the curriculum and place emphasis on teaching the Principles of Animation at the Foundation level in the first Computer Animation course. The Principles will be reiterated in Advanced Level courses.

Goal
Effective Soundtracks And Audio Components In Animation

Students will be able to create audio soundtracks for animation and to effectively synchronize animated visual elements with sounds.

Objective (L)

Soundtracks And Sound Effects

Students will be able to create audio soundtracks for animation and to effectively synchronize animated visual elements with sounds.
Students in the Computer Animation program will demonstrate the ability to create audio soundtracks for animated movies that include sounds that are synchronized with movement.

Indicator

Animation And Sound Project 🎵🎵

Computer Animation students enrolled in ARTS 2344 will complete a project that requires them to 1) Create a soundtrack for an animated movie, and 2) Create animated movement that is synchronized with the sound. The soundtrack will include music, voices, and sound effects. A rubric will measure the effectiveness of the soundtrack and the student’s ability to synchronize the animated images with the sound. The work will be evaluated using a scale of 0-100 points by two faculty members from the Computer Animation program.

Criterion

80% Or Higher 🎵

Computer Animation students will score 80% or higher on the evaluations. We have made comprehensive changes to our program to meet current industry trends. We will be taking a baseline this year with the new standards.

Finding

Weakness In Synchronization Skills 🎵

All of the students scored 80 or above on the effectiveness of the soundtrack. 44% scored below 80 on their ability to synchronize the sound with animated images.

Action

Emphasize Sound Projects 🎵

A room has been acquired to create a space for Animation students to work on Sound Projects and Soundtracks for animation projects. At the foundation level, students will be given assigned projects that emphasize synchronization of sound and animated movement.

Closing the Loops Summary

The Animation Program has acquired a small room that is being converted into a sound studio for student use. The curriculum is being examined and revised and the sequence of courses in the curriculum is being adjusted to insure that foundation skills are established prior to students undertaking advanced projects. It is expected that we will see improvement in student scores as these changes take effect and students work their way through the curriculum.

Goal
Writing Skills Development
To graduate students who are prepared to enter the media marketplace

Objective (L)
Writing Skills
MCOM graduates will demonstrate appropriate writing skills with emphasis given to grammar, structure, organization, clarity, fluency, and style.

Indicator
Assessment By Writing Skills Exam
Students in MCOM 1332 will be tested to assess development of their writing skills over the course of the semester. The initial test will be an essay administered at the beginning of the term, which will be followed by a second essay at the close of the semester. This procedure will allow instructors to assess improvement in writing skills. Students will be expected to demonstrate improvement in grammar, structure, organization, clarity, fluency, and style.

Criterion
Writing Skills Exam In MCOM 1332
At least 80% of students in various sections of MCOM 1332 will score 75 or better (out of 100) on a writing skills exam.

Finding
Writing Skills Assessment
Of two sections of MCOM 1332 that reported results on the writing skills exam, one met projected goals. In this section 80% of students scored 80 or better (out of a possible 100 points) on the second diagnostic exam. One section did not meet projected goals, with 75% of students scoring 80 or better (out of a possible 100 points). Students in the section that did not meet projected goals were weakest in basic grammatical skills.

Action
Continued Assessment Of Writing Skills
Faculty who teach sections of MCOM 1332 will meet to discuss the assessment instrument. Another diagnostic test will be administered next Fall/Spring Semesters. Faculty who are newly assigned to sections of MCOM 1332 will be tutored on successful assessment strategies. MCOM will assign as many sections of MCOM 1332 to one or two veteran faculty members to promote standardization. Faculty will identify students at mid-semester who are struggling with grammar skills and will refer these students to the SHSU Writing Center.

Goal
Knowledge Of Media Law & Ethics
To graduate students who understand the basic concepts of media law and ethics

Objective (L)
Knowledge Of Specific Legal Concepts & Theories
MCOM graduates will demonstrate a working knowledge of legal concepts and theories (First Amendment, copyright, privacy, libel, etc.) as they apply to emerging legal matters specific to the practice of journalism, radio, television, film and public relations.

Indicator
Assessment By Exit Exam--Media Law & Ethics
Graduating seniors in MCOM 4371 will take an Exit Exam. The exam tests students on specific case law and on general principles related to the First Amendment, copyright, privacy and libel. Questions addressed specific precedent cases (Johnson v TX, New York Times v Sullivan) and more general legal issues (free speech, digital copyright, journalistic ethics).

Criterion

Exit Exam -- Media Law & Ethics

At least 80% of the graduating seniors will score 80 or better (out of 100) on the Mass Media Law & Ethics Exit Exam.

Finding

Assessment Of Knowledge Of Media Law

For the third assessment period in a row objectives were met in MCOM 4371. For this period, exactly 80% of graduating seniors scored 80 or better (out of a possible 100 points) on the exit exam. Students were weakest in terms of legal issues applied to the digital environs.

Action

Assessment Of Knowledge Of Media Law & Ethics

In lieu of an Exit Exam, students in MCOM 4371 will be administered a before/after Diagnostic Exam at the beginning of the semester and again at the end of the semester. This exam will focus on the appropriate application of traditional legal concepts to emerging issues in the evolving digital environment. MCOM faculty who teach this class will meet in the Fall Semester to draft a version of the Diagnostic Exam. The Exam will be administered in sections of MCOM 4371 taught in the Spring 2013 Semester.

Action Adjusting Assessment Of MCOM 4393
Faculty who teach MCOM 4393 in the future will 1) address issues related to global politics and geography at the beginning of the semester and 2) design in-class or online exercises that specifically focus on these two issues. Due to other curriculum changes, MCOM 4393 Global Media will be retired from the MCOM Department's Core Courses. The class will be maintained as an Advanced Elective option. Faculty who teach MCOM 4393 will meet with the Chair of MCOM to discuss how best to migrate the course from the Core to Advanced Elective status.

Goal Information Processing Development
To graduate students prepared to take professional positions.

Objective (L) Computer Literacy Skills
MCOM graduates will demonstrate computer literacy skills including database manipulation and web-related research techniques.

Indicator Assessment By Information Analysis Tests
MCOM majors will demonstrate professional skills related to use of computer software, data base manipulation techniques and Web-related research techniques in MCOM 3330 using common criteria developed by the faculty.

Criterion Class Project In MCOM 3330
At least 80% of MCOM students in various sections of MCOM 3330 (Information Analysis) will score 80 (out of 100) or better on a class project that requires use of database management, electronic document retrieval and other web-based information-gathering techniques.

Finding Assessment Of Computer Literacy Skills In MCOM 3330
In one section of MCOM 3330, 75% of the students scored 80 or better (out of a possible 100 points) on a class project. In a second section of MCOM 3330, 71% of the students scored 80 or better. A significant number of students in these two sections of MCOM 3330 submitted incomplete online assignments.

Action Adjusting Assessment Of Computer Literacy Skills In MCOM 3330
This class has met Objectives in the past. Faculty who taught MCOM 3330 this year will meet to discuss ways to improve the practice of assigning online submissions. Due to other curriculum changes, MCOM 3330 will be retired from the MCOM Department's curriculum offerings by the end of next academic year. Faculty who taught MCOM 3330 in Fall 2011 and Spring 2012 will meet to plan for integrating specific web-based information-gathering practices addressed in MCO 3330 into other media-writing classes in the MCOM Department.

Closing the Loops Summary
The Mass Communication Department is devoted to developing and maintaining a curriculum that will produce students with professional writing and computer-skill competencies (MCOM 1332 and MCOM 3330), with a working knowledge of mass media law and ethics (MCOM 4371), and with a working knowledge of global media practices (MCOM 4393).

Skills-based Projects and Exit Exams in various sections of these four courses indicate that generally the MCOM
Department has achieved its goals.

In regards to knowledge of media law and ethics, students in MCOM 4371 exhibited acceptable competencies on the Exit Exam. Faculty will adjust the assessment instrument to more specifically address the application of media law theories and concepts to the emerging digital environs.

In regards to writing skills, students in one section of MCOM 1332 did exhibit acceptable levels of competence. Students in one section of MCOM 1332 did not exhibit acceptable levels of competence. Faculty will 1) adjust pedagogical strategies to emphasize grammatical skills, 2) identify students who need to be referred to the SHSU Writing Center, and 3) standardize course content across sections.

In regards to computer competency skills, students in two sections of MCOM 3330 did not meet stated goals. Faculty will reassess practices related to online assignments. Due to other curriculum changes this class will be retired from the MCOM Core curriculum, faculty will meet in the Fall 2012 Semester to identify specific web-based skills addressed in MCOM 3330 that will be migrated into other media-writing classes in the MCOM curriculum.

In regards to knowledge of global media, students in one section of MCOM 4393 met the projected competency scores. In a second section of MCOM 4393, students did not meet the objective goals. Faculty who teach this class in the future will emphasize topics related to geography and global politics at the beginning of the semester. Due to other curriculum changes, MCOM 4393 will be retired from the MCOM Core. The course will be offered as an Advanced Elective.

Another Core Course MCOM 2271 (Introduction to Visual Literacy) will be included in the SACS Report next year. Faculty will meet in Fall 2012 to fashion an instrument to assess this introductory production course.

Generally, the MCOM Department is improving in developing and maintaining a curriculum that helps students become better writers, become competent with computer-based skills, and become familiar with mass media law and global media issues. Efforts to improve in these areas (e.g., establishing new Assessment Objectives, adjusting current Assessment Instruments, and adapting Curriculum) will be coordinated by the Chair of MCOM and the new Dean of the College of Fine Arts and Mass Communication as MCOM integrates into the new college.

Instrumental/Vocal Performance Proficiency

Each student will demonstrate, through a juried performance, proficiency in instrumental/vocal performance relative to technical command, rhythmic accuracy, intonation, tonal control and musicianship.

Indicator

Performance Jury

Each BM student is required to complete a juried instrumental/vocal performance each semester. The juries consist of School of Music faculty from the designated area (i.e. woodwind, brass, string, guitar, percussion, and vocal). The performance is evaluated using a departmental jury form. A final comprehensive score representing the evaluation of the entire performance is determined.

Criterion

Performance Standards

Scores from the end of semester juries are categorized as "A" = Excellent; "B" = Average; "C" = Below Average. The School of Music considers 90% of the students scoring in the excellent range to be a success.

Finding

Performance Success

BM students performed well according to the criterion. 90% scored in the excellent range. All students met for feedback individually with their applied teacher.

Action

Evaluation

The School of Music faculty have found that the constructive criticism received on the jury forms from the other faculty members in their respective areas have assisted in the structure of the individual lessons with the students involved. This assessment/feedback system will be ongoing.

Goal

Music Theory

BM music students must become proficient with the necessary fundamental skills associated with Music Theory.

Objective (L)

BM Music Students Will Demonstrate Proficiency In Music Theory

Each student will demonstrate proficiency in music fundamentals, part writing, and analysis.

Indicator

Music Theory End Of Semester Assessment

Each student is required to complete homework assignments, quizzes, and examinations. A final, comprehensive score representing the evaluation of all music theory areas of proficiency is determined.

Criterion

Music Theory Proficiency Standards

Ratings resulting from the final, comprehensive score are categorized as 90-100 = Excellent; 80-89 = One or more areas need improvement; 70-
79 = Sufficient.

Finding

Music Theory Success
94% of students met the target: 21% at the Excellent level; 46% one of more areas need improvement; and 27% at the sufficient level. The remaining 6% did not work at sufficient level.

Action

Actions For The Objective
The Music Theory faculty have found that individual sessions with faculty members and peer-tutors allow for the most benefit to students. These types of individual sessions will be available for all music theory students.

Closing the Loops Summary

The School of Music will evaluate curriculum and teaching methods in order to improve the quality of the program and the students who are enrolled. Specifically, we will assign department mentors to students who are doing poorly in the specialized music areas. For students who do poorly in academic areas, we will refer them to the Reading Center, Writing Center, and/or Math Center as well as the Study Skills courses frequently offered by the SAM Center. We have instituted more group work and peer review to encourage deeper retention of the most difficult material, and we have increased the opportunities for individual sessions with faculty members and peer... tutors. As we strive to increase the standard of excellence, by both faculty and student, the mission of the School and University as a whole will remain the focus.

Masters of Music Recital Review and Pre-Recital Hearing Performance Standards:

  - Intonation,
  - Rhythmic accuracy and
  - Tone quality

Students must sing/play in turn, with the proper/appropriate intonation and tone quality and within the prescribed rhythmic patterns for the periods and composers and styles of their performance pieces.

This can be difficult to correctly assess for anyone other than the faculty who are the private teachers of the performer. This is one of the hardest areas of music to assess because often the individual teachers are the only ones making the ultimate assessment/judgment about student readiness to perform their recital.

For the Recital Review, at least three faculty members evaluate the student performance as passing or failing and provide detailed feedback.

Action

Performance Practice
The School of Music Faculty have found that recreating the performance environment within practice sessions both with the faculty member and peers has aided the students' success in the performance of the hearing and the recital.

Goal

Comprehensive Music Knowledge Base
MM students should obtain a basic comprehensive knowledge of music beyond their own expertise.

Objective (L)

Breadth Of Knowledge
MM students need to obtain an appropriate level of musical knowledge beyond their area of expertise. This should include but is not limited to music performance/pedagogy, conducting, music theory, music history.

Indicator

Comprehensive Exam
Students will take an oral comprehensive exam in their final semester of study. This test will be relevant to all aspects of study that the student has experienced in the program including, performance/pedagogy, music theory and music history. The test will be administered by a minimum of three school of music faculty from the designated fields of study.

Criterion

Exam Standards
Students are scored in three different categories; their applied area, music history, and music theory. They are scored as "High Pass"; "Pass"; and "Fail." The School of Music expects 90% of the students to pass on the first attempt.

Finding

Comprehensive Results
MM students successfully passed the comprehensive exam within the 90% range. Many students did, however, have to do additional assignments in order to satisfy the expectation of the faculty committee.

Action

Holistic Approach
The School of Music Faculty realize that the Master's candidates perform well in their applied areas of expertise, however, yet still lack in the other academic disciplines. Using a holistic approach to teaching in the applied areas and including instruction of a theoretical and historical nature has increased the candidates success in obtaining a broad knowledge base.

Closing the Loops Summary

MM students have received good success in their career goals. Graduates have received prominent job offers and/or sustain an active professional performance career. Those pursuing further academic study have been well received in well-known doctoral programs and have performed well on entrance exams. The School of Music will examine graduate curriculum and methods of instruction to stay current and competitive in today's music market place. Specifically for next year, we have included instruction of a theoretical and historical nature to improve the candidates' broad knowledge base, and we have attempted to recreate the performance environment as much as possible within practice sessions. We will also encourage faculty to participate in conferences, workshops, and seminars that will expose them to new methods of instruction.

<tr>
<th>Criterion</th>
<th>All MFA Thesis Students Meet Choreographic Production Standards</th>
</tr>
</thead>
</table>
|                     | 100% of MFA Thesis performers will be assessed by Thesis Committee to meet standards for choreographic effectiveness. (In addition, Students who meet the standard for acceptable choreographic production will receive a passing score for that portion of DNC 699, Thesis II.)

Finding
Thesis Productions Were Successful
Three MFA candidates presented their thesis choreographic projects. All three received credit for thesis II, DANC 6399.

Action
Third Choreography Courses Proposal Submitted
Although all three MFA candidates passed the choreographic portion of the thesis, the need for more preparation in the development of extended creative work is identified. A proposal for an additional choreography course focused on creation of extended works has been passed by the College Curriculum Committee. We plan to add the course to the MFA in Dance curriculum.

Objective (L)
Breadth Of Knowledge In The Field
MFA graduates should have a solid understanding of dance technique, choreography, production, and history, and should be able to write or speak from that base of information.

Indicator
Written Comprehensive Exam
Students will be given a choice of topics provided by graduate faculty, relevant to all aspects of study that the student has experienced in the program. A passing grade on the Dance MFA Program's written comprehensive examination will serve as an indicator that a Dance MFA candidate has acquired a breadth of knowledge in the field of dance. Additionally, the student's ability to write critically and at a standard acceptable to the profession will be demonstrated.

Criterion
Pass Rate
As demonstration that the Dance graduate program is successful in preparing students for the written comprehensive examination, at least 90% of students will pass the exam at the first sitting or upon retaking it.

Finding
Written Exam Was Not Conducted
The dance faculty determined that students need more practice in oral communication. Therefore, in the fall semester, MFA candidates were apprised that they would have a choice between writing their exams or undergoing an oral exam. All three candidates elected to have the oral exam. All three passed the oral exam.

Retain Oral Examination
Because this was the first time we had administered an oral exam, faculty weren't entirely comfortable with the proceeding. We felt, though, that the immediacy of the experience was useful for the student, and efficient for faculty to evaluate. We were able to encourage students to expand on topics, to refute questions, and otherwise enter debate. Since dance students tend to be less comfortable expressing ideas orally, the dance faculty conclude that this is a valuable component to be retained. Whether students will continue to have a choice between an oral and a written exam has not yet been determined.

Closing the Loops Summary
As the number of MFA students in our program increases, we must look for ways to efficiently mentor the students. Increasing coursework opportunities through an additional choreography class will provide a formal opportunity for development of choreographic skills prior to the thesis project. It will also reduce the number of independent choreographic projects faculty undertake, and give the MFA students more practice in peer criticism and feedback—oral skills that have been identified as requiring development. Similarly, the oral defense will give our students a major opportunity to demonstrate facility in communicating through speech. Through these means, students will develop a broader range of the skills they will need to become effective professionals in dance.
