

Principal Survey of New Teachers: 2024-2025 Overall Evaluation

The Principal Survey measures principals' perceptions of the preparedness of their first-year teachers. The survey is administered to principals who oversee first-year teachers to measure how satisfied principals are with their first-year teachers' preparation.

There are 48 questions grouped in 6 blocks; the last two are stand-alone questions. All questions in the survey except for Q50 contained the four response options: "Not at All Prepared," "Not Sufficiently Prepared," "Sufficiently Prepared," and "Well Prepared." Each option corresponds with numeric values of 0-3. Q50 is rated on a 10-point scale with responses following response descriptions:

- 10 The teacher is exceptional, in the top 2% of new teachers I've supervised.
- 9 The teacher is excellent, in the top 5% of new teachers I've supervised.
- 8 The teacher is very good.
- 7 The teacher is good.
- 6 The teacher is average.
- 5 The teacher is below average but will likely improve in time.
- 4 The teacher is below average and will need significant professional development to improve.
- 3 The teacher is well below average.
- 2 The teacher is poor.
- 1 The teacher is unacceptable.
