COE Professional Educator Certification Programs Overview
Sam Houston State University's professional educator certification programs are designed to prepare current educators to assume advanced roles in Texas public schools. These programs aim to provide educators with the skills to serve students, parents, and teachers by providing expertise in the chosen field of study. Each program consists of coursework aligned to rigorous state and national standards along with opportunities to engage in field experiences in authentic school settings. Upon completion of training, candidates are prepared to apply for certification in one of the six professional certification fields offered at SHSU. All professional certification programs are accredited by the Texas Education Agency and either the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation or the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs.

The faculty make every reasonable effort to facilitate a candidate's progress toward degree completion and/or certification. Once accepted into the program, it is anticipated that principal certification candidates will develop the skills necessary for rendering school leadership knowledge, skills and appropriate professionalism/behavior. However, if the Faculty Advisor or other faculty identify limitations regarding a candidate, and it is the judgment of the faculty that the candidate is not capable or does not have the potential for rendering the desired school leadership knowledge, skills, and/or appropriate professionalism/behavior, two alternatives will be available to the candidate: (a) repetition of coursework and/or other remediation to be satisfactorily completed before graduation, or (b) denial of further enrollment until the candidate remediates the weaknesses or problems to the satisfaction of the faculty.

The following protocol will be followed, with the potential for additions depending on the individual needs of the principal candidate, for any principal candidate who has been identified as having a concern or non-support from one or more faculty members during the completion of the core school leadership courses. Issues of concern or non-support must include a full description regarding the student's performance prior to remediation. For all remediation plans the initial step will include a conversation between the faculty and the program coordinator to discuss and develop a possible plan that addresses the candidate's individual challenges and then the course instructor faculty will contact the candidate via email to develop a final remediation plan. The following areas for concern were developed to specifically address requirements outlined in the master's program handbook in that: It is the professional responsibility of the Master of Education in School Leadership faculty to ensure that candidates not only exhibit the knowledge and skills required of a schoolleader but also have the disposition and relationship capacities to utilize those skills.

1. Knowledge Deficit: the student struggles with retaining or understanding content knowledge associated with program courses. This must be evidenced by grades below a B.

   a. Students with GPA below 3.0 are automatically removed from the program at the time their GPA falls 3.0 and will be required to reapply for admission to the program. They will also be required to complete a remediation plan and will have the option of requesting that a committee be formed to review the fairness of the plan developed with their advisor and the program coordinator as well as to review the completion of their plan.
b. SHSU Academic Policy statement 910312 allows programs to establish additional program-specific requirements. Candidates enrolled in the School Leadership/Principal Certification program may not earn more than one (1) grade of C while enrolled in the program. Candidates who earn two (2) grades of C will be terminated.

c. Remediation plans may include the completion of a written assignment associated with the topic area(s) where a deficit exists to be reviewed, at minimum, by her/his advisor and the program coordinator. The written assignment must address all areas of knowledge/content deficit therefore, if multiple deficits exist then a topic must be proposed that integrates multiple areas or multiple papers must be written.

d. The student will not be allowed to enroll in courses until the remediation plan is complete.

e. If a faculty member or members express concern regarding this area but the student has excellent or acceptable grades, a preponderance of evidence must be gathered to justify remediation (i.e. multiple assignments, discussion postings, etc. in the problem areas identified).

2. Skill Deficit: a concern is present that indicates the student struggles with application of content knowledge in school leadership situations as evidenced by case study assignments, review of practice, or other application-oriented activities and written work.

a. Remediation plans may include leadership application and reflection of leadership work. The specific nature of the skill demonstrated will be determined by the candidate and the program coordinator.

3. Professionalism/Behavioral Issue: One or more Department faculty voice concerns regarding the student’s Professional/Behavioral issue inside or outside of class in situations associated with the program. Behavioral issues may include one or more of the following: frequent late assignments; any violation of the Code of Ethics and Standard Practices for Texas Educators; lack of involvement in coursework and/or reflection; discriminatory language or behaviors that would interfere with her/his role as a school leader; disrespectful behavior towards faculty, supervisors, and/or colleagues, or does not improve following direct intervention. It is the responsibility of faculty and instructors to address behavioral issues as they are identified so that students can make corrections prior to the completion of the course and before applying for candidacy. Remediation plans may include a reflection that sufficiently addresses how the student has improved the behavioral/professional issue identified. This plan should be reflected in writing and address the thoughts, feelings, and actions the student took to develop as a professional in the area(s) delineated in the plan.

If a student has an issue in more than one of the areas listed above, they must complete a remediation outlined in each category. The student will have one semester to complete the plan unless otherwise agreed upon by those involved in the development of the initial plan. Students with skill or knowledge deficits may not take more than one class (if any) in the semester of their remediation. If he or she does not complete her or his plan in one semester, or by the agreed upon date of completion, he/she will not be able to register for classes until the plan is complete.

This protocol is designed to work in congruence with requirements outlined in the master’s program handbook. Updates regarding student progress will be monitored regularly.
Academic Dishonesty

All students are expected to engage in all academic pursuits in a manner that is above reproach. Students are expected to maintain honesty and integrity in the academic experiences both in and out of the classroom. Any student found guilty of dishonesty in any phase of academic work will be subject to disciplinary action. The University and its official representatives may initiate disciplinary proceedings against a student accused of any form of academic dishonesty including but not limited to, cheating on an examination or other academic work which is to be submitted, plagiarism, collusion and the abuse of resource materials. See the 810213 Procedures in Cases of Academic Dishonesty 2018 (shsu.edu)

Students with Disabilities Policy

It is the policy of Sam Houston State University that individuals otherwise qualified shall not be excluded, solely by reason of their disability, from participation in any academic program of the University. Students with disabilities that might affect their academic performance are expected to visit with the Office of Services for Students with Disabilities located in the Counseling Center. They should then make arrangements with their instructors so that appropriate strategies can be considered, and helpful procedures developed to ensure that participation and achievement opportunities are not impaired. SHSU adheres to all applicable federal, state, and local laws, regulations, and guidelines with respect to providing reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. See the University’s Students with Disabilities Policy.

ACADEMIC GRIEVANCE POLICY

As a student, you have a right to grieve an academic decision. The program utilizes the same appeal process for academic and nonacademic dismissal. A student who believes they have been wrongly dismissed or terminated from graduate studies may appeal using the procedures outlined in Academic Policy Statement 900823. Under the provisions of this policy academic grievances include disputes over: (a) course and/or assignment grades, except cases of academic dishonesty (see Academic Policy Statement 810213 for procedures in cases of academic dishonesty); (b) unauthorized class absences or tardiness; (c) an instructor’s alleged unprofessional conduct related to academic matters; (d) withdrawal or suspension of privileges related to degree-required clinical rotation, internships, or other clinical service delivery in professional degree programs.
