Bird Buddies: A Youth Educational Presentation Given by Dr. Diane Neudorf

The College of Science and Engineering Technology at SHSU would like to highlight Dr. Diane Neudorf, an avian behavioral ecologist and associate professor of biology, for her contribution to local youth education and community engagement. Dr. Neudorf will be giving a presentation titled “Bird Buddies” to elementary-aged children; the presentation is intended to entertain and educate children and will focus primarily on owls. This event will take place at the Huntsville Public Library on Tuesday, June 29th.

Bird Buddies is sponsored by the Huntsville Audubon Society - the mission of which is to “increase community awareness of the natural world, through education and the active enjoyment of birds and other wildlife”.

To learn more about Bird Buddies and other children’s programs offered at the Huntsville Public library please visit: http://huntsvilletx.gov/600/Childrens-Programs.

To learn more about the Huntsville Audubon Society please visit: http://www.huntsvilleaudubon.org/.