EXTRA EXTRA Read All About It

What's all the hype about? We are so excited to announce the arrival of a library on Campus. Our eager readers will get the opportunity to check out books to take home each week with the assistance of our PTO volunteers. We have a variety of books for all grade levels. From stories about pixies to stories about pirates, lil bearkats can now immerse themselves in a world of imagination.

All books are supported and endorsed by all our teaching staff, so stop by and check out your next adventure.

IT'S UNANIMOUS: THE PTO IS AWSOME!

by Ellie and Hallie

As the new school year progresses, we start to wonder what keeps this school up and running. The answer is simple: the PTO! When asked, some teachers here at SHSU Charter School gave their opinion on the PTO. Here is what some of them said:

How Would You Describe the PTO?

Mrs. Muller replied, "I would describe them as helpful."

Mrs. Knighton said, " I think the PTO is supportive of the children and teachers."

What Do You Think The PTO Should Focus on This year?

Mrs. Samuel said, " I think they should focus on school spirit."

Mrs. Armacost answered, " I'd like the PTO to focus on science supplies for the school this year."

Do you have any Extra Notes for the PTO?

Mrs. Muller said, "Thanks for the ViewSonic!"

Mrs. Knighton replied, " I am so thankful for the PTO. I have never had a better one."

FEEL GOOD MOMENTS:
doing good together

While lining up to head out for the day the unthinkable happened! One of our lil bearcats dropped his pencil box on the floor. Pencils and crayons were rolling as fast as they could hiding in nooks and crannies. The look of sadness and embarrassment crossed his face. What was he to do? As he reached down to start gathering his lost things, a hand followed behind. When he looked up all he saw was a smile. "Would you like some help" a friend asked. Together they found all of his crayons, pencils, and highlighters.

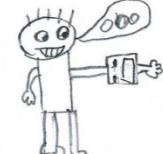

"Make each new day count by helping someone or just by making someone smile."
