

In support of digital teaching and learning in The Texas State University System, SHSU online is proud to host a faculty development event for instructors across the system.

The TSUS Faculty Development Day for Digital Education is a virtual event free to instructors in the Texas State University System. Join your colleagues on Friday, January 8, and learn about best practices and methodologies for teaching web-enhanced, blended, and online courses.

Visit The TSUS Faculty Development Day for Digital Education website to view the day's schedule and to register for the event!
