Where My Girls At?: A Phenomenological Study of Lesbian Law Enforcement Officer Couples

The culture of policing has been studied in various aspects and is often referred to as the brotherhood, however, in respect to the changing and diverse nature of today’s law enforcement officers (LEOs), this study provided a view inside the lived experiences of lesbian LEO couples. The focus of this research was to discover the essence of being a lesbian LEO couple.

Committee Members
Richard Henriksen Jr., Ph.D
Chi-Sing Li, Ph.D.
Lauren McLean, Ph.D.

Event Information
June 28, 2021
10:00 am
TEC 131