PUBLIC DEFENSE ANNOUNCEMENT

Ashley B. Starrett
Thesis Defense
College of Science & Engineering Technology
Department of Agricultural Sciences
MS Agriculture

The Effect of Dental Floating on Nutrient Digestion in Non-Pregnant Quarter Horse Mares

This study examines the importance of dental care for a horse’s oral health and ultimately, their overall health, which has been known to offer freedom from pain and relief in the mouth. Dentistry allows for the proper digestion of nutrients and forages that a horse needs to maintain a good body condition.

Event Information
June 29, 2021
12 pm CST
Zoom

Committee Members
Dr. Jessica Bedore
Dr. Kristine Urschel
Dr. Phil Urso
Dr. Mark Anderson